This Tech Tip means to give bottom-up coverage of the low-level protocols used in an IPv4 context (we provide no coverage of IPv6). This is not a deployment guide or best-practices document — we're looking at it strictly at the protocol level on up, rather than from the big picture on down. NOTE: originally this was to be a pair of papers, with the second covering Key Exchange and the like ...

The same majority of Nigerians are crying for Buhari to resign and not even complete his term as they now see that Buhari is a mini dictator and cares nothing for the suffering of the masses. Mind you, though, that the example of GEJ and Buhari will not be as serious as things will be with a publicly accepted dictator or emperor like Nnamdi Kanu.
