Hesston has been known as the hay and forage innovator since 1955, when the company developed the first commercially available self-propelled windrower. Other industry firsts have included the first hydrostatic windrower, the first center-pivot mower-conditioner and the first big square baler—which had nearly 50 individual patents of its own.

I chose a hesston 530 for the small hp requirements and also it looked like the newest baler i could purchase for the money. But, trying to get a bale started takes an act of congress. Either it clogs around the roller or just clogs in the mouth. I'm trying to bale 100 acres and can't spend all my time unclogging the darn thing.
