There is a definite relationship between the image characteristics and the location where an object is placed in front of a concave mirror. The purpose of this lesson is to summarize these object-image relationships - to practice the L•O•S•T art of image description. We wish to describe the characteristics of the image for any given object location.

All objects have a natural frequency or set of frequencies at which they naturally vibrate. The quality or timbre of the sound produced by a vibrating object is dependent upon the natural frequencies of the sound waves produced by the objects. Some objects tend to vibrate at a single frequency and produce a pure tone. Other objects vibrate and produce more complex waves with a set of ...

Try subtraction, not just addition. One effective way of stimulating gratitude is to reflect on what your life would be like without certain blessings, rather than just tallying up all those good things. Savor surprises. Try to record events that were unexpected or surprising, as these tend to elicit stronger levels of gratitude. Don't overdo it.
